OUR THEME

Vision in planning....Raw materials to work with....Tools to fashion with..... Workers (That means us!).....Courage to follow through...All this we need to carry out the construction job ahead of us now... The job of building a better world. This is the story of the preliminaries....The making of plans, the gathering of tools, and the apprenticeship.

ALMA MATER

As the evening shades are falling,
And the day fades into night;
Pause a moment in the gloaming
To salute the Red and White.

Flag of red, our badge of courage
With your gleaming letters white;
Emblem of our Alma Mater
Guide us onward toward the right.

Though our ways may part forever,
In our hearts there shall be bright
All the golden memories gathered
'Neath the Banner red and white.

Flag of red, our badge of courage
With your gleaming letters white;
Emblem of our Alma Mater
Guide us onward toward the right.

We dedicate this . . . our 1942 CARDINAL . . . to the raw material out of which a better world will be built — children, all children, everywhere.

P.S.T.C.

April 13 will hereafter be known in Plattsburgh as a date of great joy and thanksgiving, for it was on this day in the year of our Lord one thousand nineteen hundred and forty-two that Governor Lehman signed the Feinberg Bill. With that little gesture—that slight expenditure of energy—our future and that of our school was brightened as by a thousand-watt bulb.

From now on we can proudly say, "We go to Plattsburgh State Teachers College." That is, we can say it after July 1, which is practically as good. The legal red tape which prevents our immediate adoption of the title cannot hamper our joy.

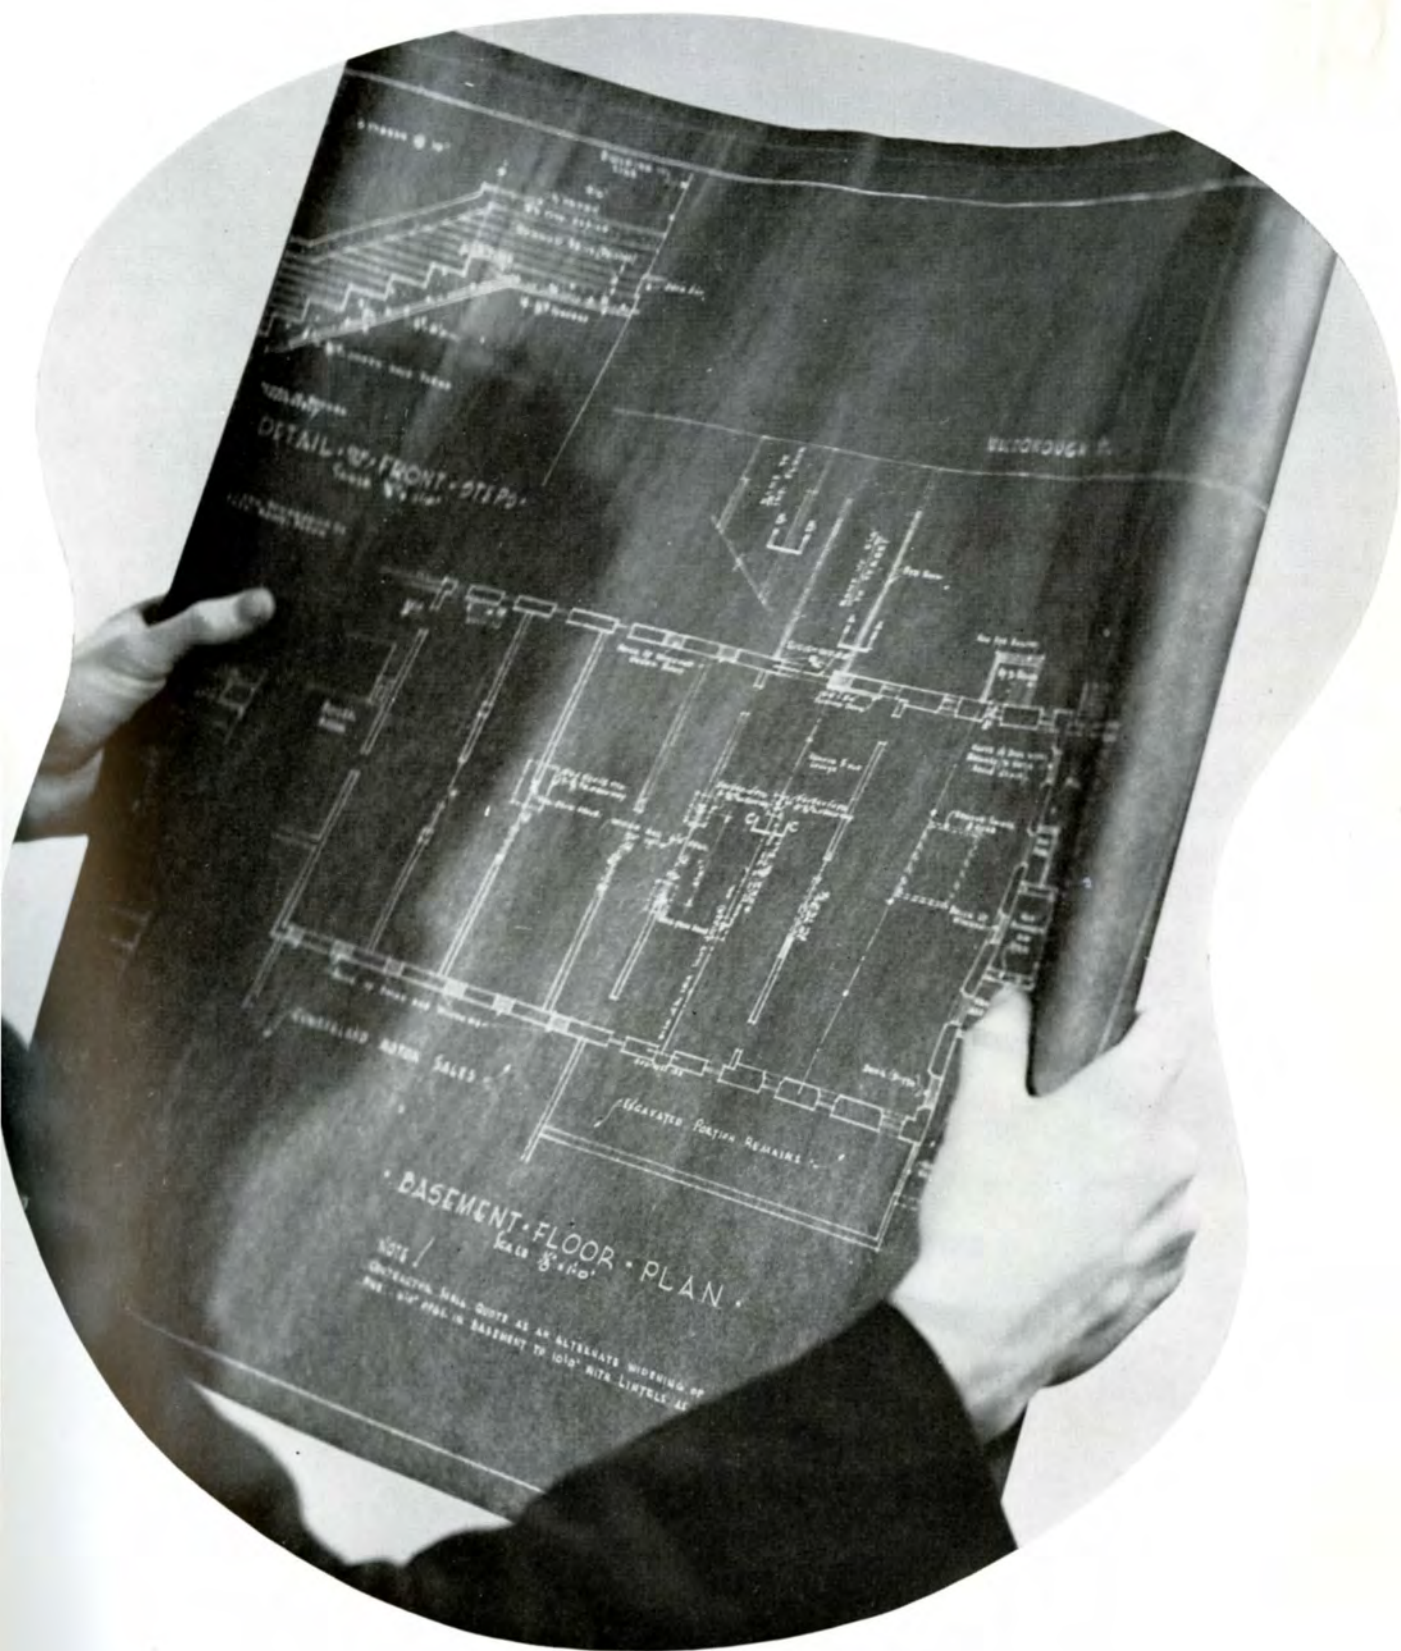

The news which came as such a welcome surprise was in reality not a surprise at all when you consider the time and unfailing energy which Senator Feinberg and so many others spent toward achieving this goal. We who benefit directly by the passage of the bill can't give too many thanks to those who were responsible for it.

Good things always come in bunches, and while the latest news tends to cover up that which has preceded, the granting of degrees earlier this year to elementary students can't be overestimated. The past year has been so chock full of great events that as grandpappies and grandmammies we'll never lack for something to tell the little kiddies that flock 'round our knees.

Lest we forget, in these years of excitement, our school's past history has been long and illustrious. For fifty-two years it has been growing and ever changing to keep in line with the latest trends of education. The story of "the Fire" has become a part of everyone's store of school lore. What is most important to us is that everyone "banned the black despair" and "built again anew."

In the words of Dr. Ward, "The task we have is to make our college richer in the lives of all who may come to the Plattsburgh State Teachers College in the years that lie ahead."

BUILDING....

The Plan

DR. CHARLES C. WARD

. . . His influence is felt in every phase of our school life where democracy and self-realization are the key words. . . His plans for us are great—and so is his faith in us. . . If we can follow the example he has set we shall be well prepared for all the jobs ahead of us!

1942 CARDINAL

Through the panorama of history, the theme of the 1942 CARDINAL, "Building a Better World," has been the promise of religion, the dream of philosophy and the hope of the common man. Today we are engaged in a mighty conflict to make possible, for all the peoples of the earth, the realization of this ageless hope.

At last we know that without the good of all of us there can be no good for one of us. If we are to preserve justice, liberty and opportunity, then must all peoples have justice, liberty and opportunity.

As this is written, I think in retrospect of all our students in Plattsburgh have done to achieve a "better world" within the orbit of our own lives. More than ever you have accepted the harder tasks, given more than has been required and sought new opportunities for service. Within our school you have established a greater justice and made possible a more complete freedom "within the law." Because you, and countless others throughout the world, have done this, the crisis of today will pass and the vision of a better world, a world of justice and of peace, will become the reality of tomorrow.

CHARLES C. WARD
President

OUR FACULTY

Miss Norton, Dr. Peterson, Mr. Noyes, Miss Nethercut, Miss Ryan, Dr. Redcay, Miss Patterson, Miss Pinkham, Dr. Rusterholtz, Mrs. Parsons.

Dr. Ward, Miss Sullivan, Mr. F. O. Smith, Miss Tompkins, Miss Willey, Miss Woodward, Miss Williams, Mrs. Taylor, Miss Stark, Mr. C. Smith, Miss Snyder.

OUR FACULTY

Miss Ketchum, Miss E. Lewis, Mrs. Hall, Mr. Moyer, Mrs. Moyer, Mr. MacFarlane, Miss Hoxie, Miss Horning, Mrs. Hubbard.

Dr. Diebolt, Miss Berg, Dr. Harlan, Miss Detraz, Dr. Ehlers, Miss Backus, Mr. Hartman, Miss Burwash, Miss Buntin, Mr. Fisher.

They're busy people, these faculty members. . . . Tops in educational work; training us to follow in their profession—human beings, giving advice and counsel where it's most needed—sharing in plans, work and play!

Educators . . . . folks . . . . workers . . . . they're fine!

HOUSE OF DELEGATES

"The hand that holds the purse strings holds the power"—and the House budgets student fees with due solemnity and carefulness. . . . Chief exponents of the democratic form of school government . . . responsible directly and indirectly for about everything that goes on around here. . . . Joe Doe can sit in on meetings—if he can last the usual two-hour sessions! . . . Social activities, assemblies, student guidance, Red Cross and similar stuff—the House has a committee for it. . . . All in all—it's a darn good representative group, and does a super-deluxe job!

STUDENT COUNCIL

The powers that be. . . Be what? Behind the throne, of course—the House if you insist upon being technical. The stronghold of democracy—and of women, curses! Here you behold the illustrious and industrious House officers and standing committee people—Heil Heinkle! They meet in 202, once every two weeks or so. Behind closed doors, with the shades pulled down, they discuss deep, dark secrets. . . . “What, for example, needs to be done at the next House Meeting?” “How to keep the townspeople impressed with our good manners,” and, “What is this democratic thing, anyhow?”

House presidents all . . . and with a mighty mission; keeping nearly 400 women healthy and happy. 'Taint an easy job, but cooperation with the Dean's office and a little thought on the side do wonders. Friday and Saturday nights are really something now, with the "twelve o'clocks" allowed under the new House rules. . . . That's what we call progressive education! And the Senior girls with their off-campus problems—oh, the Board will solve that too. . . . Worried about what to do in a black-out?—Just turn to your house president, the h. m.'s assistant. . . . And how would you like two one o'clocks a month, girls? Oops—pardon—just dreaming again!

Intersorority would be a better handle—three sororities and a “frat” send members to form this regulating board.

Rivalries are frowned upon—nay, squelched! The Interfraternity Dance—highlight of Rush Week—first proof that four can work as one. Bidding. . . More evidence of harmony when the preferential bid system was unanimously accepted. Listen now—this dignified bunch didn’t sanction hell—(can’t say it out loud) week—or did it?

Shucks, maw, we’re only young once. You’ve gotta get some fun outa life.

SENIORITY

They tried to take Plattsburgh by storm . . . knocking over old precedents, starting new ones . . . trail-breaking's been their hobby. Call it classical license. . . call it initiative . . . or maybe just a yen for sheepskins and PSTC. Innovations . . . first frosh hazing . . . then Junior Week . . . and those other things we were quick to pick up and carry on as traditions. . . All mixed well with steadiness and clear thinking in making and carrying out of plans. . . Remember Dapper Dan LaPlante and his bawths? . . . Davis and his girdle? . . . the intelligentsia—Daily, Condon, Adams and Davis. . . Big Yock on the basketball floor, and we do mean on it. . . Golden, his trumpet, and most any piece. . . Colorful personalities aplenty . . . and why don't you ask Nitzi what was that big secret he was willing to sell for five cents long about April. . . Memories of four swell years together . . . those first homesick days in Plattsburgh . . . new faces . . . new surroundings . . . embarrassing entrances into wrong classrooms . . . the Freshman Hop . . . Class day . . . summer vacation . . . proud Sophs looking down on a bunch of green Freshies . . . picnics . . . parties . . . dances . . . another year . . . and still another. Seniors at last—it doesn't seem possible . . . hard work . . . practice teaching . . . and that awful feeling when the freshman in the locker next door looks at you in askance the first week if you're "on campus" the second semester. But you're still part of us . . . there's Senior Banquet . . . The Senior Ball . . . Class Day . . . talks of schools and contracts that leave a wistful gleam in our eye . . . and finally . . . graduation . . . congratulations . . . and new fields to conquer. . .

JUNIORS...

What are Juniors anyway? . . . Just a batch of people—enjoying themselves thoroughly—the whole world about ready to dawn on them. . . . This year—kids, careless—next year—teachers, responsibility, work, lesson plans. . . .

A hodge-podge of memories, accumulated through the course of three harum-scarum years—getting lost the first day, continuing to be lost for the first week—singing the Alma Mater at the frosh party—the first time we heard Golden play the trumpet at the All-School tea—running the other way when we sighted one of the “brutal” upperclassmen.

We had a Freshman Hop once—we thought it turned out amazingly well, considering the vile colors used on some of the monogrammed fish—octopussies—moss—underwater dancing—we weren’t all wet, either! “Chauvin for president” was the cry that year. . . .

More thoughts come piling in—Soiree—Sophomores, to win, to place, and showing up in fine style. . . . Who ever did swipe War Admiral’s identification card? . . . The Rod and Gun Club picnic—competition between the men’s and the girls’ quartettes—the three-legged race—and trying to make Nitzi give us another “with”.

Juniors now—and driving the teachers wild—forms of surgery—cutting classes to work on this brainchild. . . . Slaving on decorations—Spring—the Prom nite at last. . . . Why doesn’t someone innovate a hagline?

Putting all foolishness aside—we’ve been heading the right way. . . . We know where we’re going, what we’re doing and what’s more, why we’re doing. . . . We honestly are “all proud to be from the Class of ’43.”

SOPHOMORONITY

One of the more amazing phenomena appearing in a school of higher learning is the evolution of an ungainly, searching-for-knowledge Freshman into that type more intimately referred to by all as a "Soph." Upperclassmen look with a critical eye upon these pseudo-dignified Sophomores, while the Frosh naively revere their every action. Well, nuff said about that. . . .

Perspectively speaking, the past year has been one of great joy balanced with an occasional sorrow. . . . In the first semester Freshman hazing was done up in rare fashion by the competent guidance of the Sophomores. And to cap this activity with their usual thoroughness, the same Sophomores established a precedent in the traditional tug-of-war, by dunking said Frosh in ye olde pond. . . .

As to formals, the Soiree was duly chairmaned, worried over, and supported by the Class of '44, with criticism—constructive, destructive, and instructive—from all sides. Rising from the annals of the past year, are the men of brawn, to be specific—Bogle, Beyerl, Bremser, DeLaire, O'Brien and O'Hare—who did their bit for dear old Alma Mater, by pacing the hardwood in a manner hard to beat.

Ah! But the Sophomoronic air is not entirely a fallacy. Proof being found in the fact that the current Sophs engaged in a two-day mental ordeal—the results of which were used to . . . .

In spite of everything though, we know that they're a chipper crowd of rascals, so let's wish the best of all to the embryonic Juniors. . . .

FROSH

Freshmen—well, yes, they were rather “fresh” when they first pranced our halls last September, and, of course, so inconspicuous with those fetching little red beanies! How strange, but, by some stroke of luck (or rules) the Freshmen seemed to become the sole authorities on the names of the Miss and Mr. Upper-classman. My! What memories some children do have!

As a special little treat, the Sophomores even took one whole afternoon after school to give personal guidance to the Freshies in the art of sweeping a sidewalk with a whisk broom (my, how silly of them!), and how one can skillfully twist a paring knife around the roots of those darn dandelions that so conveniently (?) dot our campus.

They even succeeded in breaking the record set by the previous Freshman classes. In the tug-of-war across the pond, what did these fellows do, but insist upon swimming through the cool, invigorating water at the end of a rope—that’s right—held at the other end by the land-locked Sophs.

The rules were finally over—class elections—and then, the dream of every Frosh’s heart—the Freshman Hop! A dream, indeed, gliding cheek to cheek around snow-covered slopes, and under the new “Defense” ceiling, swinging to the flying notes of Dartmouth’s Barbary Coast Orchestra.

The class of ’45—small fry still—but coming up fast in the world. Keep ’em trying!

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

We see the light. . . . Uh, huh! It's true! THE CARDINAL 1942 has been completed. At least the "dummy" is Burlington bound and we've time to heave a huge collective sigh or two and to gaze around. Why, it's spring now! . . .

We've gratitude aplenty for all the help we've received from Miss Sullivan, Mr. Hartman, and Mr. Noyes. Also a sincere "Thank you" to everybody for without you there would be no . . . .

THE ASTRONOMERS

"An undevout astronomer is mad"—direct quote from the masterpiece of an ancient sage. . . . But the modern counterpart is merely "mad" about the subject—Whiteface Mountain at midnight in the cold, starry heights—telescopes skyward directed—seeing Saturn, Mars, and the Little Bear—and which part of the Big Dipper really does point to the North Star. . . . Dr. Rusterholtz—boundlessly enthusiastic, "Have you seen Venus tonight?" . . . And the club members—competent—knowing stardust from the Milky Way—which galaxy is scientifically important—how many miles to the moon. . . . Introducing it gently to the layman at the Tea Dance—decorations of stars—and the contest with music. . . . Want to come stargazing with me, huh?

Athletic Board

There's something new in the winds that sweep across the north country. A newly formed Athletic Board to act as a giant guiding hand to all our athletic activities. . . . Where there's a will there's a way, and where there's a need the House finds a way to fill it. Purpose of the new board—to promote more intramurals, more interest in sports, to facilitate making decisions pertinent to letters, etc. . . .

The Skeleton Behind it All

"We have five men from the "Valley of Champlain." More than that, really, but five at a time do the heavy work. They gave a good show for themselves and for the honor of dear old P. S. T. C. Diplomatic-corp deluxe, they spread our good name far and wide over New York State. Taken as a smooth working unit, the team gave many a thrill and chill to onlookers with their close teamwork. Taken one by one, you have a darn good assortment of star players and grand personalities. . . .

TENNIS

From puddle-jumping in early spring to a stiff schedule under a hot sun before the end of the year. Uh, uh, it's no easy racquet!

Second to basketball—our other intercollegiate sport—still in its infancy perhaps, but with the spirit the boys have been showing (especially on the trips away with Manager Fallon's tires underwheel), it's due for—strictly in clichés—"bigger and better things!"

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Yale vs. Princeton—the grand finale! A season of female against female on the court as well as on the campus. The bulldog's bark and the tiger-like trombone notes made for a very—very—very—noisy wasn't it? They were rewarded at the all-school supper with J. V. letters for the first time. It's really getting to be a woman's world round here after all—they're now doing half the "courting". . . .

CHEERLEADERS

Eight smiling girls . . . Comes the command—"What dya say?" Okay! Then the shouting, cheers not jeers echo through the gym and swish—another basket. . . Not a coincidence but facts, mind you—facts! It's a vicious cycle with head cheerleaders leading the six cheerleaders who in turn direct the crowd, but it all comes out all right. The V formation is for victory and they helped by adding the three dots with dash.

Daguerreotypes and the family album replaced by action shots, fade-outs, superimposing, and the more candid—the more clever! Uh, oh, come now—I know you're better looking—yup, just an off moment—No, I won't throw it away! . . . Well, glad we decided that. . . . And here's the art angle—an exhibit in the library—album covers—individualized, personalized, and definitely original! . . . Must be darn interesting. . . .

If it's just cooking and sewing you're looking for, you'd better go somewhere else. . . . The functions of this club are many more than just that. . . . Started in 1937, it exists for a profession of teaching the finer arts involved in the course known as Home Economics.

While attempting to develop their personalities, initiative, social poise, professional interest, and such, they really have some grand times together. With a tea dance to start the year off properly, they have been busy ever since. Demonstrations—discussions—planning—and, of course, we mustn't forget the ever-popular "Open House" to which the high school students and their teachers come from all the neighboring towns and villages for a day of demonstrations, exhibits, and entertainment by the girls of the Home Economics Department.

THE ECON CL

In between stitching, and knitting two, purling two for the American Red Cross (and our armed forces) they also managed to make plans for their annual Home Economics Club assembly, which always seems to make such a hit with the female and—surprisingly enough—the male members of our student body . . . and why wouldn't it? . . . With all the cute shorts and playsuits—the slim-fitting evening gowns and slacks—the attractive dresses and coats—all the handiwork of our versatile "Home Eccers."

Well—while their main purpose may be to train themselves further in their profession—why not have fun doing it?

THE GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

"You're singing flat"—heard continually every Wednesday from 4.15 to 5.15 p.m. . . . And then for added interest—"Think bright"—hummm, shades of a lecture to Rembrandt. . . . But really Dr. Ehlers with tapping baton, keeping the altos subdued and the sopranos where they were. . . . Work for the assembly program (very good)—much more work for the Music Week—Wednesdays of song—a lullaby, lighter rhythms, chants and negro spirituals—Take it, Dr. Ehlers!

Brahms, Beethoven, Bach, boogie woogie, barrel house and blues! give with the trumpet and swing . . . or, more likely a festive overture or a stirring march. Whatever—sounds good echoing through the halls during rehearsals. Comes along a musicale (Music Assembly, y'know), and we get an earful of the stuff that soothes the savage beasts. Music week and our ears rejoice to hear our own and other bands play in their Sunday way. Music-minded future maestros and present maestro Ehlers made super-rhythmic contribution to the “cultural” side of school life. . .

MALE QUARTET

"Daniel, Gabriel, Peter, who did?" . . . We like their silly songs best and they always have such a good time singing them. . . . Everybody's favorites . . . they never can prepare enough songs to satisfy . . . and not only students . . . Kiwanis luncheons, Service Club banquets, from Montreal to Lake Placid . . . they're invited everywhere. We bet they didn't know there are 3.14 milligrams of iron in every four oysters. . . . You fellows oughta learn to eat 'em. Then you could sing for your supper and really eat it.

We like to see Ralph's neck stretching when he tries for a high note and the um-pum bass notes of Bob are always good for a chuckle or two . . . and the trouble Sid has in rounding up the gang and getting them on stage, and Paul's clear tenor. They're fun and we like them. . . .

Shades of William S. and George Bernard Shaw—a dramatic society! . . . Theatrical-minded students get their chance to work out on a real honest-to-goodness stage—and from then on—it's up to you. . . . One group's been working on make-up—grease paint and cold cream—used to make anyone look like—well, it's one way of getting away from oneself. . . . Skiing! Skating! Mountain climbing! Sleighrides! How to be healthy and happy at the same time! It's lots nicer looking at the sky from atop a mountain, than from the base of it—and what fun to glide (no, we did it the harder way!) down the snowy slopes of our favorite ski center—Rand Hill. Sleighrides? That is a question mark. We planned, but warm weather and rain always got the best of us. Honest—there's nothing quite like the good outdoor air and sports to pep you up—at least until you try to climb out of bed the next morning. Feel stiff? Umm—definitely—but we'll try it again!

Let's read! . . . Read the things you've always wanted to—classics, neo-classics, or maybe just ghost stories. . . . From purely pragmatic perambulating in prose to meaningful or maybe just mischievous meandering à la Christopher Morley (have you read Parnassus on Wheels—No. 1 book of the club?), Stephen Leacock, or whom do you prefer for foolishness? Foreign literature—contemporary trends—and discussions on best sellers—and for the social atmosphere—teas, an evening of maple sugaring, a lot of laughs at a movie. . . . Possessors of the school-teacher instinct, with an emphasis on the youngsters—happy with smudgy faces, patched overalls, bare brown feet (come summer in the North country)—combining club work with pleasure. Visiting country schools in a sleigh—snow, songs, and a warm fur robe. . . . Being a teacher of a one-or two-room rural school isn't just something out of The Hoosier Schoolmaster. . . . The Clios had an exciting year—with their assembly program, rush party, Pledge and Initiation activities et al. . . . Memories that bless and burn—the work behind the assembly program—all the hours when the lamps were on far into the night while “playwrights” scribbled, trying to “get the mood”—tragic scenes which were hilarious at rehearsals—and the rewarding pride that came when the A. A. U. W. requested a repeat performance. . . . The Interfrat shindig started the rush season which led farmerettes and their prize animals to a Clio fair. . . . Then there were the Pledge Banquet, Initiation Supper, and the Senior Breakfast—picnics and parties. . . . And “it was such a good year!”

Men! . . . Take a good look, girls, this page may be valuable in years to come—and such fine specimens too! The fellows did their bit for the Interfrat dance this year—had a riotous time during their informal (we're not dressing) initiation—the Hawaiian effect appreciated by all (we now know that Joe Young swings a Grable-ish hula!). They had an assortment of banquets and pot luck suppers—anything, with beans as entree and spaghetti for dessert! ## Spotlight On '42 . . .

FALL

Registration—crowded halls—newcomers. . . All-School picnic—rotten egg throwing—mad dash for the long hot ones—Diebie ladling them out—gad, man, did you eat onions too? . . . Frosh rules—red caps—lots of ribbing—dandelion destroying. . . First Tea Dance—didn't know so many girls had pretty legs. . . Hallowe'en—we rang doorbells—what did you try?—the party—cider, and doughnuts. . . Soiree nite—gardenias—swish—perfumes—stiff collars. . . First open house—the football game per radio—dancing in the small gym—big week-end. . .

WINTER

Rand Hill—skiing. . . Interfrat—the novel programs—the cookie and punch bar. . . Christmas—making gifts—the beautiful Cantata. . . Home. . . Vacation—catching up on sleep—losing it all New Year's Eve. . . Back to work. . . Frosh Hop—new ceiling—clever decorations—more glamor. . . Fraternity and sorority stuff—pledge and hell week—no downtown baiting, shucks! . . .

SPRING

Home Ec. Open House—demonstrations—exhibits—Defense theme. . . Yipe—more vacation—Easter—much too short. . . To the grind again—ten weeks' tests—did someone mention incompletes again? . . . P. S. T. C.—the big parade—Dr. Ward's perfectly apt speech. . . Music Week—h. s. bands underfoot—music everywhere—yup, good, too. . . Junior Week—our pet, the Prom—did you like the Queen?—"sneak" day—should have been a week—fishing maybe. . . Cramming at the last. . . The final week—busy—Class Day, Senior Ball, and Commencement. . . I hate to see you go—good luck—yes, I'll write. . .

JUNIOR WEEK

It's a junior's world—for one wee week out of a long year. The principle followed therefore is—fill the seven days with a maximum of fun, frolic and frivolity. It's a great feeling to let loose just once in a while. . . .

A Prom Queen—not a king but a Queen—gave the Junior Prom something extra this year. 'Course the dance brought its usual accompaniments of blind dates, sore feet (and heads), decorating, blues, disheveled rooming houses while the gang fussed and primped, boys cursing those confoundedly hard-to-tie affairs they wear around their necks, sweet swing and deadly downbeats.

The banquet at the Royal Savage was a gustatory miracle, a marvelous memento of a full and joyous year—and, incidentally—a gay old time for all concerned. . . . They had us tagged—no mistaking a junior for a soph if we could help it. Horrors, who could do that anyway? At any rate the tags gave us that “all for one one and all juniors” feeling. . . .

Outdoor classes is more to the spot during spring. We oughta do this more often. There's a certain nice informality and down to earthiness about it all. . . . Sneak day and that lush feeling of getting out of something. . . . All in all, it's a week of friendliness and cooperation, the spinning of more threads in life's pattern.
